WOULD BRING MEN OF AGE SINCE JUNE ONTO LISTS

Senator Chamberlain, at the Request of War Department, Introduces New Bill.

All Men of Age Since June, 1917, Would be Compelled to Register for Service.

Would Assure Supply of Men Without Taking Those who Have Dependents.

Changes Also Suggested in Vocational Exemption Grounds.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, January 15.—At the request of the War Department today Chairman Chamberlain of the Senate Military Committee introduced a bill for the registration for military duty of all men who have become 21 years old since June 5th, 1917, when the draft law went into effect.
Another bill which Senator Chamberlain introduced at the request of the administration would provide for the furloughing of national army men for harvesting crops and other agricultural duties.

Another bill would put the quota of the state on the basis of available men in the first class instead of population.

In determining the registration of men who have become 21 since the draft law was enacted, the War Department has rejected any plan to raise the age limit of the draft to take in men more than 31.

Registration of men who have become of age since the draft law was enacted was recommended in the recent report of Provost Marshal General Crowder as one of the means by which a supply of men might be assured without taking those who might have others dependent upon them.

The passage of Senator Chamberlain's bill with administration support is expected promptly in both Houses.

Another bill introduced by Senator Chamberlain would provide a distinctive badge or button for exempted men.

Arrangements have been made to fill from the second draft sometime this spring the extensive vacancies in the coast artillery caused by the organization of provisional regiments of mobile heavy artillery for service in France.

Affairs Passing into Control of War Lords, who Would Hold All Gained by the Sword.

Von Hertling Reported Ill and Ready to Resign.

Premier's Address Before Reichstag Is Postponed.

Ministers to Denmark and Holland Appear Unexpectedly in Berlin.

(Associated Press Cable.)

Control of the destinies of the German Empire, press accounts from neutral countries agree, is passing into the hands of the militarists, or the leaders who want to hold what has been gained by the sword. Chancellor von Hertling, the incumbent of the chief political office is again reported ill and preparing to resign, while the militarists and pan-Germans are demanding the dismissal of the foreign secretary, who has headed the German delegation at the peace conferences.

In connection with the reported illness of Hertling, it is reported that Count von Hertling's address before the main committee of the Reichstag has been postponed.

Coupled with these reports is the fact that the German Emperor and crown prince have been holding conferences with the political and military leaders.

It is reported the German ministers to Denmark and Holland have arrived unexpectedly in Berlin. Indications that the present turmoil within Germany's ruling class will result in the acceptance of a firm policy either favoring the militarists or the more peaceful elements with the probability that the pan-Germans will be victorious.

The Socialist Vorwaerts believes a military dictatorship is in the making.

EVEN UP

An Amsterdam report says that at the Russo-German peace conference on Friday and Saturday it was confirmed that evacuation of occupied territory by both parties should take place on the basis of full reciprocity, so that the evacuation by the Central Powers of Russian territory would synchronize with the evacuation by Russia of the occupied region in Austria-Hungary and Turkey.

AUCTION OF MANY ARTICLES PLACED IN 'MELTING POT'

Many Gold, Silver and Other Trinkets with Value Greater Than Metal They Contain Will be Sold at Public Auction at Red Cross Room Thursday Afternoon.

And now comes a public auction as a sequence to the very successful response to the calls of the melting pot as put forth by the National League for Woman's Service last Friday and Saturday.

The public responded not only freely but with many articles in gold, silver and copper that are really too handsome to be melted.

The workmanship makes them more valuable than the actual metal and the purpose of the melting pot being to create as large a fund as possible, it has been decided to hold an auction at Red Cross headquarters Thursday afternoon at three o'clock and give people a chance to bid in many rare articles.

Really beautiful and unusual are many of these gold and silver articles that patriotic people consigned to the melting pot—silver coffee urns, silver tea sets, spoons, bracelets, charms, pins, rings, trays, napkin rings, jewelry, all manner of things from small trinkets up to copper wash boilers.

This collection will be on display at two o'clock Thursday afternoon, in order to give people an opportunity of looking the articles over before the auction at three o'clock.

"Everything that does not sell at auction will be sent to the crucible to be melted and sold for the metal in them."

This plan of auctioneering off the handsomest and most useful articles found in the melting pot was tried out with great success in Columbus two weeks ago.

The mayor of Columbus auctioned off the articles and there was lively bidding, many securing valuable articles and feeling that they had doubly aided the cause of patriotism.

Words and Acts

The Bolshevik Foreign Minister announces that Russia, under the leadership of the extreme radicals, now in control, will raise and equip a fighting force of three million men to prevent Germany from forcing unjust terms upon Russia and if need be to fight Germany unless other countries of continental Europe are offered the same advantageous peace terms which he is now demanding for Russia.

On first reading that announcement seems to hold out a slender ray of hope that Russia will not be permitted to become the vassal of Germany.

When, however, we realize that the announcement was made as a part of the agreement of the same foreign minister to resume peace parleys at Brest-Litovsk, after he had sworn not to do so; that he surrendered his demand that further peace parleys be held at Stockholm—in a neutral zone—that thus far Germany has secured his acquiescence to every proposal, after a short period of bombastic talk, our old distrust returns, reinforced by developments.

No, Lenin and Trotsky have yet to do something tangible to convince a skeptical world that they are not still the agents and hirelings of Germany.

The world hopes that there is some little sincerity in their assertions, some real intention to do something for Russia, but as yet, there is little or no proof that even tends to dispel the unfavorable first impression that their actions compel.

We Agree

This paper is in receipt of a most excellent communication regarding the conservation of fuel by the local light and power company.

The only objection to the communication is that the identity of the writer is not disclosed and under our necessary rule it cannot be published as such.

The suggestions are so timely and excellent, however, that we are going to appropriate them editorially and announce our acquiescence in the suggestion.

The communication is as follows:

"I think the conservation of fuel at this time could be used to a good advantage by the city, by allowing the Washington Gas & Electric Co. to cut off the current on moonlight nights and run only until 11 p. m. on any other night, but run from 5 to 6 a. m., to allow workmen to get to work in the morning. I'm not a stock holder and have no selfish motive in this, but I don't see any use furnishing light for owls who are out all night. Let them carry a flash light, if it is necessary for them to be out all night.

This might work a hardship on some, but a very few and I believe some such schedule could be worked out that would be a saving."

Why not indeed, we join in the query, which is propounded. May not many hours of useless lighting be dispensed with and consequently many tons of sorely needed fuel saved.

There are other conservations of energy, which might be made to save fuel hereabouts and suggestions to that end will doubtless be made, now that the ice is broken, by the man who would slow up on the unnecessary use of coal by the power and light company.

The Business Men Arrive

One great and wholesome reform which the stern necessities of war have brought about is the retirement, to private life, of the professional politicians and chronic office holders.

These trying times demand more, in the public service, than mere good fellows and glad hand artists who look the part all right but, really, have no place to fill except in the most inconsequential capacities.

The practical men of affairs—the business men who do things, who every day have mastered and must master the great and grave and real problems of life, have been called to the public service and, from every walk of life, have responded to that call, laying aside their personal work and ambitions, to contribute their all to the nation.

In Great Britain and France the incompetents have about all been weeded out of the high places and real men placed at the helm. The change was vital—without it the great problems never could have approached solution.

In the United States, now well along in its first year of war, the call has been issued and thousands of real men are responding and by doing so they are displacing just that many worthless individuals, who have been holding positions, which this crisis shows them unfitted for.

The application of sound business principles in government promises to be permanent too. The demagogues in Great Britain and the United States, had placed in power, many incompetents, while business men were placed under the ban. All that is changed now. The business man has arrived in the public service and, pronounced as the beneficial results are in war work, they will be no less pronounced in the works of peace when peace comes.

Poetry For Today

THE LITTLE BOY FROM THE POOR FARM.

We used to live on the Chick-a-ree,
My ma an' pa an' our dog an' me
An' brindle calf an' a banty hen,
'Till pa got ager an' died, an' then
My ma died, too, an' the sheriff up
An' held a vendoo an' sold my pup
An' bindle calf an' my hen an' things,
An' a man by the name o' Landrum
brings
Me up t' the village—an' he's trustee!
To where the Home fer the Friendless be!
An' last of April er first o' May
I cum out here fer t' work by day
Fer Mister Gibbons; an' now that all
The harvest's over an' gettin' fall,
I'm goin' back t' the Poor Farm.

I've gone t' school an' I'm turnin' ten,
An' almost strong as the hired men;
I've earned my keep in a lot o' ways,
'That's real surprisin,' Mis' Gibbons says;
I've fed the pigs an' I've run the churn,
An' brung the wood fer the stove t'
burn,
An' druv the cows; an' I've gone t'
town
An' brung the mail an' the groceries down,
An' worked the garden an' watered stock,
An' helped with puttin' the corn in shock.
An' helped t' cradle an' bind an' reap,
An' worked part'nigh 'till I fell t'
sleep.
An' never complained ner faulted
none—
But now that all o' the work is done
I'm goin' back t' the Poor Farm.

I've liked it fine an' I like the folks—
The hired man an' his funny jokes;
He plays jewsharp an' he calls me
"Bub"
An' vites me out fer a game o' "scrub"
When evenin' comes; an' he lets me win!
I like my room with the fixin's in,
An' I like the dog, 'cause I learned him how
T' snap fer meat when I hollered
"Now!"

I like the neighborhood boys an' girls,
Espeshully her with the hangin' curls
That never points when I'm goin' by Ner hollers, "You're poor-farm boy!"
An' I
Have allus wanted to show her how T' make dolls' hats out o' buckeyes
—now
I gotta-go back t' the Poor Farm!

HORSE DROPS DEAD IN STREET CLEANING

The banks of snow that enveloped our city Tuesday morning looked good to shut in people and considerably interfered with the day's business. But the snow plows had been on the job since daylight and by the time business houses were opened conditions were far better than had been looked possible.

It was one of the heaviest snows known in the city's history, very hard to handle and the early morning's work was decidedly creditable to the service department of the city, operated by Service Director Tracy and his assistant, Dan Woods.

Seven horses and sleds were out all day. Early in the morning some delay was occasioned by one of the horses, belonging to a man named Stuckey, dropping dead.

Special efforts were made to open the streets in the school neighborhoods and up town. The expedition with which streets were opened has received much favorable comment.

TRAFFIC FURTHER IMPEDED BY HEAVY SNOW OVER NIGHT

Greatest Snowfall of Season Adds to Handicap of All Traffic and Piles Huge Drifts in Highways and Streets—Citizens Busy Digging Themselves Out.

With an additional snowfall of six to eight inches, Monday and Monday night, the ground was covered with a blanket of snow from 12 to 17 inches in depth Tuesday, and additional drifts of 3 to 7 feet in height were piled in the highways and byways, to say nothing of more drifts on the railroads, further impeding traffic which has been greatly demoralized during the past several days.

While the highway were made all the more impassable, the railroads did not suffer so badly as anticipated, and the best services since last Friday resulted on most of the railroads.

For the first time since last Friday, the Cincinnati newspapers arrived, and trains west were more nearly on time.

Early Tuesday morning the snow plows were put to work in the main part of the city, and by eight o'clock most thoroughfares were open. The death of one of the horses attached to a plow tied up the work to some extent, and on some streets early pedestrians were forced to wade in snow nearly knee deep. The snow plows were kept busy much of the day, and the work was much more satisfactory than at any time during the winter. The plows were first used to open up the way to the schools.

The uptown sidewalks were speedily shoveled clear of the snow, and piled in huge drifts in the gutter.

The snow is pronounced the heaviest in this community in a great many years, and said by some to be the greatest they have ever known.

CONSERVE GAS! Committee on Public Information, supplied by U. S. A.

One of the chief reasons that Uncle Sam asks patriotic Americans to be sparing in the use of gasoline for pleasure car driving is to insure a sufficient supply for our great air fleet. This photo was taken at one of our big flying schools and shows mechanics filling the gas tank of one of the big training planes. It is estimated a plane with two passengers requires six gallons of gas an hour, or double that of a seven passenger automobile.

her art on the "End of a Perfect Row" with the following result:
When you come to the end of a perfect row,
And you sit alone with your wool,
And your bosom heaves with a rhythm slow,
For the joy that you've followed the rule,

Do you think what the end of a perfect row
Can mean to a tired heart.
When you've dropped each stitch since you've learned to purl
And you lost three more at the start?

Well, this is the end of a perfect row,
And the end of a sweater, too,
Though it's for a man that is big and strong,
It will be pretty tight, 'tis true.
But toiling has rendered this perfect row
A nice piece of the knitter's art.
And 'twill stand at the end, still strong and firm,
When the whole thing comes apart."

Woman's Organizations Urged to Form R. C. Units.

Every woman's organization in the country, whether religious, literary, temperance, fraternal or social is urged by the Red Cross management to establish a Red Cross unit. Many of these organizations have already established units and are doing splendid work. There is little doubt that other organizations are equally willing to assist in this patriotic work if they but realize how much it is needed and how anxiously desired.

Semi-Annual Report N. L. W. S. The Secretary for the N. L. W. S., Miss Amy Conn, makes the following gratifying report of the work accomplished by this organization for the half year ending December 31st, 1917. The amount accomplished speaks eloquently of the zeal and efficiency with which the League workers have labored and is certainly a splendid record.

Since the organization of the Central Unit, thirteen auxiliary units have been organized in town and county, all actively engaged in the making of surgical dressings and knitted articles.

These various units have shipped the following supplies:

August 1, 27 knitted articles to Navy League.
November 12, 241 knitted articles to Company M.
December 1, 104 knitted articles to Company M.
Total—372.

August 1, 781 surgical dressings.
September 9, 602 surgical dressings.
October 5, 553 surgical dressings.
November 5, 929 surgical dressings.
December 31, 1341 surgical dressings.

Total, 4203 surgical dressings.
For the above work, the League has collected $462.50 and paid out $408.89, leaving a balance on hand of $53.61.

Except for a small membership fee of twenty-five cents, this money has been in voluntary donations from the workers and their friends.

Besides this regular work, the League has been active along other lines—taking charge of the first distribution of food conservation cards and assisting the Council of National Defense in the second distribution.

The League, also has sold Liberty bonds to the amount of $1500 and has collected $23 for the Y. M. C. A. Christmas packages for Camp Sherman; at present plans are under way for a war hospital library for convalescents.

PATRIOTIC DUTY TO PAY INCOME TAXES

The present income tax was imposed to help pay for the war, and a great many citizens already have realized the fact that it is just as much a patriotic duty to pay their income taxes promptly and uncomplainingly as it is to buy Liberty Bonds, savings stamps, and help in other war work movements.

"The person who has an income that requires the paying of an income tax should be proud of the fact, and willing to pay promptly and unhesitatingly," declared Mr. Chas. Newell, who is still at courthouse to assist all who believe they will come under the provisions of the income tax law.

The penalty for evading the income tax law is very severe, and in addition to provision for a fine of $20 to $1,000, a penalty of 50 per cent additional tax is provided, so that it is easily good economy to pay the income taxes promptly, and before the time for doing so has passed.

Mr. Newell will continue to advise those who meet him at the court house until January 22. Many persons who have consulted him have been informed that they are not subject to the income tax law.

FAYETTE CREAMERY MAKES 357,599 LBS. OF BUTTER IN 1917

The Fayette County Creamery, during the fiscal year just ended, produced 357,599 pounds of high class butter, according to the annual report of the Secretary, Earl Barnett.

The annual meeting of the company was to have been held recently but the weather was so bad that not enough of the stockholders appeared to form a quorum. However the report of the secretary was heard and the fact brought to light that the past year has been an exceedingly prosperous one for the institution, which is backed entirely by local men interested in a fair profit and offering the surrounding community an opportunity to market butter fat at a good profit. The output according to the secretary, was nearly double that of last year.

During the past few months two new copper pasteurizers have been installed and the company is installing additional equipment to handle a greatly increased business during the coming year, and will install additional stations for the purchase of cream. At the present time the company has eight receiving stations which add greatly to the convenience of cream shippers.

During the next few weeks the interior of the plant, located north of the East End school Building, will be completely rearranged, and preparations made for the handling of the greatest year's business yet experienced.

The rapid growth of the business, in which both patrons and stockholders have shared alike, has been very gratifying to all associated with the business in any way.

No dividend will be paid this year, but will go back into the business to meet plans for handling the bigger business of the future.

MANY QUAIL ARE FROZEN TO DEATH

Scattering reports indicate that the quail in Fayette county suffered seriously during the recent blizzard, and many have been found frozen to death or starved to death, and it is expected that the casualties among the little feathered friends of the farmers will be much greater than first reports indicate.

In some instances rabbits have been frozen to death, but the quail are the chief sufferers, and should be given close attention by the landowners to prevent a still greater loss of life in their depleted coveys.

HAPPY OUTCOME TO THE VISIT OF MARY HUNNEL

It Brought Her Knowledge of Nerv-Worth and Nerv-Worth Brought Her Better Health.

This is a typical case. Very often sick folks go away from home for "a change of air and scene" and at their destination read Nerv-Worth endorsements and talk to Nerv-Worth enthusiasts about this wonderful family tonic which has brought thousands of sufferers up out of the slough of ill health.

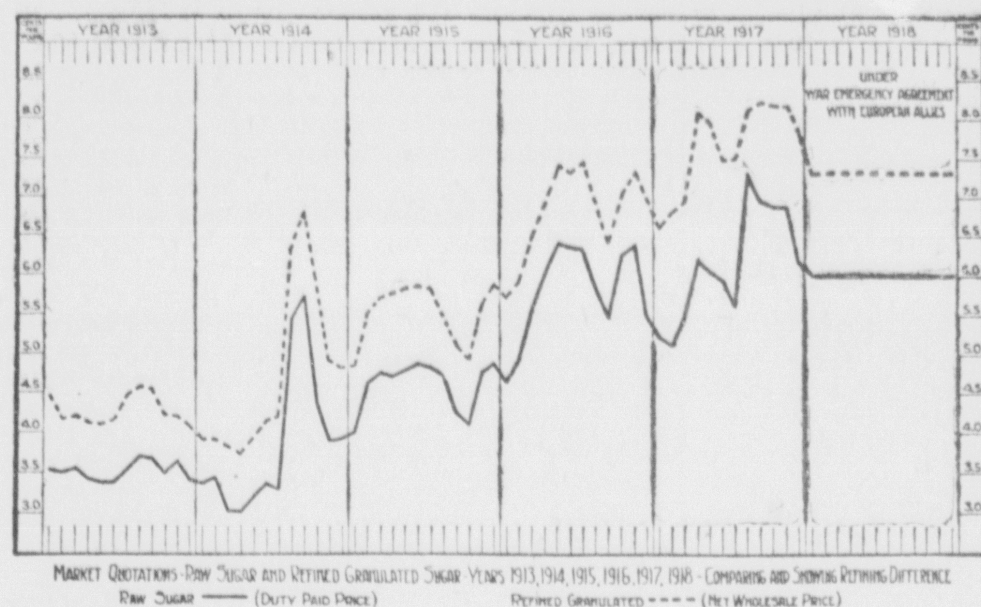

Mrs. Hunnel, of Middletown, O., did this at Ironton, O., and this is what came of it:

Ball-Warfield Drug Co. — I have been visiting relatives in your city for some time. I saw Nerv-Worth advertised in a little folder distributed from your store. The testimonials from people who had been benefited in Huntington and other nearby places gave me faith in the tonic and I sent down to your store and purchased one bottle. I am now taking the second bottle. When I came to Ironton I was in a very weak condition on account of a spell of sickness just before coming here. I was nervous and did not rest well. I AM FEELING VERY MUCH BETTER EVERY DAY. My appetite is good. Sleep well. I am glad to have the chance to recommend Nerv-Worth.

MRS. MARY HUNNEL,
Middletown, Ohio.

Your dollar back at the Brown Drug Store and the Christopher Drug Store, Washington C. H., if Nerv-Worth does not benefit YOU.

Why You Are Not Paying 30 Cents for Sugar

In April 1917 the cables told of a plan proposed by Herbert C. Hoover, then in London, which he described as "a plan by which the Allies can consolidate under one head the whole purchasing of food staples from our market, and not only will competitive bidding be abolished, but by co-operative buying on our side we can arrange the proper balance between the rights of producers and consumers."

This plan was favorably received by the sugar refining industry, which had been on a war basis almost from the beginning of the European War.

The war had brought the Allies into the Cuban market, resulting in severe domestic and international competition with no increased supplies. Naturally prices of refined sugar, both to the American public and to the Allies, rose under this forced draft.

Domestic sugar refiners, since the outbreak of the European War not only have safeguarded the United States supply but have maintained the lowest sugar prices in the world.

This brilliant record is due largely to the fact that sugar refining is in the hands of large business units, with an excess of refining capacity sufficient to supply all domestic needs, and so far all demands of foreign countries.

In the spring of 1917 there was a serious attempt at the disorganization of the sugar refining industry, following a long series of attempts at destruction of sugar ships.

Accompanying these incidents were widely circulated sensational reports predicting a sugar famine and sugar shortage, causing widespread apprehension.

At that time, even with the assurance of ample supplies on hand, retail sugar prices rose in some sections to 20 and 25 cents a pound.

The efforts of the American Sugar Refining Company to allay public alarm, to check hoarding, to accept a price less than that which it could easily have secured, and to distribute its product fairly and evenly among the trade, were of real public service.

While there were great supplies of sugar in far-away Java which ordinarily would have gone to Europe, yet the necessity for saving ships became so great that Europe turned to Cuba for even larger supplies than previously.

It takes a cargo ship 150 days to make a round trip between England and Java, while a round trip between England and Cuba can be made in 50 days.

Under these circumstances and seemingly to avoid paying proposed United States war taxes on refined sugar the European Allies purchased in Cuba the sugar which ordinarily would have come to the United States in the fall months.

These conditions, and especially the necessity of saving ships,

In war time and at all times it is our aim to safeguard the interests of the public we serve.

American Sugar Refining Company

"Sweeten it with Domino"
Granulated, Tablet, Powdered, Confectioners, Brown

led the United States and the Allied Nations to urge upon the sugar industry the adoption by voluntary agreement of the original Hoover plan, under the authority of the Food Control Act, passed August 10, 1917.

The cane-sugar refiners and the beet-sugar producers unanimously agreed to the Hoover plan as a patriotic act in the interest of the American people and as an aid to the Allies.

This is the significance of the appointment by the United States Food Administration of the International Sugar Committee to which the Allies send representatives for England, France, Italy and Canada, and to which the United States contributes three members.

Upon the success of the operation of the International Sugar Committee under the directions of the Allied Governments, acting for practically half the civilized world, will depend the readjustment of the world's sugar markets.

This plan is full of promise to all the nations party to the convention.

It is an assurance that sugar, although comparatively cheap in view of war conditions, will not by reason either of competitive or speculative activity be increased in wholesale price.

Sugar will become stabilized in price with sufficient profit to producers, refiners and merchants to maintain and stimulate production and to cover the cost of refining and of distribution.

The marketing of Domino Cane Sugars in cartons and small cotton bags by this Company has helped amazingly during the pinch of the fall months in giving a wide distribution among the retailers of the reduced sugar supplies.

While a barrel formerly was the unit of the grocer the same amount of sugar put up in cartons and small cotton bags can now be divided between two or more grocers and so serve a larger number of people and prevent hoarding.

It will be necessary for grocers and consumers to watch carefully their distribution and purchases during the approaching period of readjustment. The refineries are now starting up and supplies of raw sugar coming forward, but it will take weeks, and possibly months, for the return of normal conditions.

Housewives can aid in conserving the sugar supply by buying these package sugars.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS; ANOTHER PAYMENT ON HOME

The semi-annual installation of officers of Confidence Lodge, Knights of Pythias, was held Monday night at the regular session of the lodge, and was attended by a goodly number of knights who were not averse to wading through a little snow.

In addition to the installation of the officers who will hold office during the next six months, another substantial payment was made on the attractive home of the lodge—a thing which pleases every member of the lodge. The installing officer was R. R. Maddox, Deputy Grand Chancellor, assisted by Past Chancellors Holmes, Sherman and Henry Smith.

The auditing committee submitted a report showing the lodge to be in a healthy condition.

The officers installed are: C. C. E. G. Speaks; V. C. W. A. Bevan; Prelate, Griffin Wilson; M. of W., Chas. Sever; S. at A., R. N. Stuckey; I. G. W. F. Baker; O. G., A. A. Barney; K. of R. and S., H. M. Kingsbury; M. of P., E. L. Tracey; M. of E., W. T. Bay; Trustee, J. M. Gillespie.

H. M. Kingsbury, Keeper of Records and Seal, has served 25 years in the office, and has discharged the duties of the office so faithfully that his brother knights have long since voted on the assumption that "one good turn deserves another" and again placed upon him the important work of the office.

GETS FIRST MAIL IN THREE DAYS

Because no mail had been received in Jeffersonville since the beginning of the big storm of Friday night, John Robbins, the postmaster at that place, accompanied by Eugene Booco, James Watkins and W. W. Williams, made an automobile trip to this city Monday afternoon to take back the accumulation of mail at this point.

Many huge drifts were encountered on the way, but by dint of much shoveling, the party finally reached this city. The auto trip was the first one to be made between Jeffersonville and Washington since last Friday.

A SUGGESTION

Editor Daily Herald:

The blizzard Saturday causing the elimination of the late delivery showed that the people can get along with out it if they only think that they could it would save time labor and unnecessary wear and tear of wagons and horses and no doubt would meet with the approval of the merchants and customers.

Why not order goods early and avoid the night deliveries and give the drivers and horses a chance to rest.

The trouble with the delivery system is that it has been imposed upon and abused by parties giving small orders two or three times a day, where one order would do. That is the case with customers of independent deliveries, who should agree not to deliver any goods after 5 p. m. excepting Saturdays and then not later than seven p. m. It could be done if they would all pull together.

No housekeeper would think of ordering dry goods to be delivered after 4 p. m.

Let us hear from you on this subject.

CONSERVER.

DID THIS CARRIER LIKE IT? WELL, YES!

One day recently while the great blizzard was raging at its worst, Rural Mail Carrier Roy Thompson, on Route No. 6 had gone several miles through the below zero wind and through snow drifts, delivering mail without beholding a single human being.

While about seven miles out of this city and suffering with cold, he neared the mail box of W. L. Crooks, and a moment later Mr. Crooks dashed from the house with a tin-cup full of steaming hot coffee for the benumbed carrier.

"I never knew that coffee was so good, and that a little act of kindness could mean so much," declared the appreciative carrier.

MANY AUTOMOBILES ALONG THE ROADSIDE

During the past three days a half score or more of automobiles, either frozen up, out of gasoline or securely wedged in big snow drifts, have been left in the highways until their owners could return and shovel them out.

A number of machines were abandoned Friday night and Saturday night, and in one or two instances the occupants remained in their machines all night, suffering severely of the cold. This was true in a case where the Bloomingburg basket-ball team started to Jamestown and stuck fast on the State Road, some of the boys suffering frosted fingers and feet.

BAINBRIDGE DID IT MAN DRAWS USUAL

The usual fine of $5 and the costs was paid Monday by the first drunk who has shown himself on the streets of this city and fallen into the hands of the police in the last several weeks.

To Our Growers

We desire to state to our old growers as well as new growers that our books are open and we are ready to talk and contract with you for 1918 crop of Peas.

We announce our price for good O. K. Stock shelled peas, both June and wrinkled stock, of sixty dollars ($60.00) per ton delivered to our factory.

This is quite an increase over our last year's prices on Peas.

Peas being a crop that matures early enables the grower to produce a second crop, such as sweet corn, Lima beans, beets or spinach.

Alfalfa or clover sown with peas not only produces you a crop of peas but insures you a start of alfalfa or clover, an undisputed fact.

By way of suggestion regarding acreage. We all know that to insure good crop yields, depends largely upon the soil. If you expect a good crop you must plant that crop in good soil. This is an important consideration, especially during our war when so much is depended upon us. Our success in the canning industry depends upon your success in the growing of crops.

Our Field Inspector, Mr. Harry Hyer, starts on his mission and will endeavor to see you. However we suggest you either call us by phone or write or what is better, come and see us.

We will announce prices on sweet corn in a few days.
